

In regard to Docket Number 01-184, as a business consumer of cell phone service, I think that the ownership of the phone number by the company should be allowed to expire as the law states. It is anti-competitive and unfair to the consumer that we, in effect, become limited to service by the first company we contract with or go through the complications of changing our numbers. The number should travel with the consumer. Thank you.